BREED THEATRE.

Marie Doro in Common Ground, Fivepart Paramount Production, Feature for Monday and Tuesday-Four Shows Monday-1.30, 3, 7 and 8.30

The mercilessness of the foudal system and the probable reason why the nobler families of Europe have retained their power and prominence through many generations is well set forth in the motto of the ducal house of Buritz in the Paramount photopiay, An International Marriage, which is the feature at the Breed theatre today. The ducal boast embalized on their arms candidiy expresses, "What we want, that we take." The handsome young duke in following this slogan of his lineage runs into greater trouble than he anticipates with the young American who also loves the same beautiful American girl. Rita Jolivet's dramatic rendition of the beautiful American girl is an overflow of winsome charm and compelling attraction.

The Breed also presents the Pathe Weekly and Bud Fisher's animated cartoon of Mutt and Jeff completes the bill for today.

Marie Doro, one of the most celebrated dramatic artists on stage or the brated dramatic artists on stage or the brates of the brated dramatic artists on stage or screen, and formerly a Frohman star, will be seen at the Breed theatre on Monday and Tuesday, in the Jesse L. Lasky production of Common Ground, a thrilling drama of social conditions written especially for the Paramount program by Marian Fairfax, and produced under the personal direction of William C. De Mille. Common Ground shows the mental Common Ground shows the mental and spiritual awakening through love, of a child of the slums, employed in an artificial flower factory.

How she meets, falls in love with, and eventually saves from ruin, at the hands of political grafters, a young judge, is the basis of this most unusual play. The methods of the army of parasites connected with the city institution, and their dealings with the unfortunates of the underworld, are vividly exposed.

How these grafters, to further their own ends, manufacture false condi-

The Lasky company has surrounded Miss Doro with a cast of unusual excellence, consisting of such distin-guished artists as Thomas Meighan, as the young judge, Theodore Roberts, Mary Mersch, Horace B. Carpenter and Vera McEvers, and a number of other members of the Lasky all-star organi-The picture has the usual Lasky thoroughness of detail and splendid photography.

The Breed will have four shows on Monday at 1.30, 3, 7 and 8.30, and all seats at all performances will be ten

AT THE AUDITORIUM

Biggest Bargain Show of the Year All Next Week-Musical Comedy and Feature Pictures.

The management of the Auditorium have booked for next week a show which will surpass anything ever seen in Norwich at 10-cent prices. The chief attraction will be the Strand Musical Comedy company of fourteen people, featuring Felix Martin, the celebrated French comedian, who is already well known in town.

success with which at all times this pair and the big chorus of the Strand Musical Comedy company are able to keep their audiences riding the crests of the wave laughs.

The bill for Monday and Tuesday is a feast of mirth and merriment and a story of humorous lines to boot, replete with screamingly funny situa-tions, that would even seem ridiculous but for the irresistible personalities of Rose Emmett and Felix Martin. As of Rose Emmett and Felix Martin, As it is you won't be able to resist the combination and must laugh whether you will or not. They almost dare you to keep a straight face throughout the While most companies depend upon the strength of their leading charac-ters for their pulling power, the Strand Musical Comedy company is a whole band of comedians, the chorus being one of the best trained and most naturally clever ones seen here in some time. Costuming has not been neg-lected either, and the several appearances of the chorus form a chain of surprises that add to the strength of the bill. Scenic effects, too, are good, the whole staging of the show being pleasing.

The feature picture for Monday and Tuesday will be The Gangsters of New York, with Henry B. Walthall and Blanche Sweet in the leading role. It is a more tensely dramatic film than is a more tensely dramatic film than you have ever seen, and is vivid, true, vital and thrilling. Comedy pictures will also be shown. All seats on the main floor will be 10c, matinee and night. There will be a complete change of program, show, pictures and all on Wednesday and Friday, making three new shows on the week.

DAVIS THEATRE

Four Shows Today at 1.30, 3.15, 6 and 8.15—Three Big Keith Acts and Charlie Chaplin in his Latest Comedy, The Rink, also a Big Triangle

There will be four complete shows at the Davis today and if you haven't seen this show don't fail to visit the Davis today, for it is certainly one of the best of the season, all three acts are good and the pictures are away ahead of anything ever seen here. The big attraction is the inimitable Charlie Chaplin in his latest comedy called The Rink. You know Charlie has funny feet, but when you see those same feet with roller skates on then you can imagine what will happen, and Charlie is some skater too when he wants to show off with those same million dollar feet. Everyone who has seen the picture declare that it is the best comedy he has ever appeared in. The vaudeville feature is the comedy dramatic sketch called Finders Keepers, and it has made a big hit here. Another very fine act is presented by the Three Keltons, two isdies and a man, who have a musical act time is as good as anything ever heard here, the third ext. tons, two isdies and a man, who have a musical act that is as good as anything ever heard here, the third act is Kelly and Davis, two clever colored entertainers who sing, dance and put over a lot of comedy that keeps everyone in smiles. The Triangle picture on this bill is called The Microscope Mystery, a five-part production, featuring Wilfred Lucas and Constance Talmadge.

Taimadge.

For the first half of next week another banner bill is booked. The vaudeville consist sof The Hippodrome Four, a very good male quartette, who present Dinglespiel's Night School, a lively singing and dancing offering

NORWICH TOWN

Entertainment and Tree at Scotland Road Hall-New Year's Social Gathering and Suppor at First Church-Week End Notes.

Thursday evening at Scotland road hall a pleasant entertainment preceded the distribution of gifts from the tree. There were two violin solos by Arthur Baldwin of Occum, accompanied on the plane by Howard Bushnell. All joined in the singing of Christmas carels and songs. A play entitled Christmas at Skeeder's Corpers was given most pleasingly by entitled Christmas at Skeeder's Corners was given most pleasingly by Misses Ruth Bushneil, Grace and Doris Geer, May Irene Hansan, Nellie Chappell, Jessie Smith, also Charlie and Thursten Lillibridge, George Rathbun and William Metcalf. Last the children received their presents from the gaily decorated tree.

Of Interest to Men.

joy to behold,

Billy Sunday is perhaps the most talked about man in America today and while he has a host of friends who are very enthusiastic over his work, there are some who question the wisdom of his methods. On Sunday af-ternoon, Dec. 31, under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A. at 3 p. m. in the Thayer building Rev. Charles H. Ricketts will give his impressions of this most wonderful evangelist. Mr. Ricketts recently spent several days in Boston, having gone there especially to hear Billy Sunday, and his story of the evangelist will be intensely interesting.

This meeting is for men only, and boys over 15 years old. Several of Billy Sunday hymns will be rendered on the graphaphone and Swahn's or-chestra will furnish attractive music.

Dr. Slocum's New Year Message. "Old Year and New Resolve" is the subject of the sermon by Dr. Joel B. Slocum at the Central Baptist church tomorrow night. This is the concluding topic in a series of Sunday evening addresses entitled "Things Old and New" that the pastor has been delivering through December. livering through December. The quartette of the church will repeat, by request, three selections of Christmas

COMBADES.

We are old comrades, Poverty and I:
Long years we've traveled gayly,
side by side;
When first I stopped, observing he
was nigh,
My heart was bursting with ambition, pride—
And oh, I feared he would deny, deride
The great white hope that thrilled me,
But he smiled;
His face was haggard, yet no little child
Could give back faith and love within a giance
As did this veteran of all miseries.
"Fear not," he said, "nor look at me
askance.
I am but one of life's great mysteries.
Why I am here I know not, yet I come
At nature's call, to hound the steps
of man;
To hinder, hurt and baffie all I can—
Aye, e'en to still the breath and soul of some
Who seek as you do for the light of

Who seek as you do for the light of fame.

To others I give honor, noble name:
The praise of nations, yet all men deplore
My hungry visage and my loyalty,
None cares to see me loitering at his door

None cares to see me loitering at his door
To tax the measure of his energy.
I come sad-hearted, yet this much I've gained
By long observing—those who call me friend
Succeed at last, and in the glorious end
Are grateful to me that I pinched and palned."
And speaking thus, with sorrow on his face.
I took his hand. No more was I afraid, The ghost of horror by his voice was laid.
Close, side by side throughout life. Close, side by side, throughout life's further race.
We ran together. Now I thank the That linked me to him, knowing best my worth;
Wealth would have made me less of use on earth
'Twas Need that forced me to man's best estate.

BROTHERHOOD.

When from the silent chambers of the Love gives gifts and works with a living aim And builds a lasting friendship that will hold The same in human joy or human pain.

When the heart proves a giver of deepest worth And gives out a golden wealth from man to man And in response a thousand joys come And in response a thousand post to birth
That forms an union of souls that will stand.

Then will the virtuous acts of men live through time And shine like a beacon with a per-fect light To guide the world of men from every clime
Into a brotherhood and fellow right.
